TORCHLIGHT PARADE AT 7:00 O'CLOCK TONIGHT--GET IN!

RALLY HAS THE AIR OF VICTORY

The Greatest Political Demonstration
Ever Witnessed in Rush
County Marked the Day.

OVER ONE THOUSAND IN LINE

Or About Forty Times as Many as Democrats Had Yesterday—
Watson Home Tonight.

TONIGHT.

Torchlight procession at 7 o'clock. Torches will be furnished to all. Will form at Republican headquarters at Second and Morgan streets. Parade on principal streets. Meet Watson who comes from Indianapolis on I. & C. at 7:50. Watson speaks at the Grand theater at 8 o'clock. Watson will address overflow from balcony of Grand theater and may possibly appear in court house yard.

FACTS ABOUT PARADE.

It was the biggest political demonstration ever witnessed in Rush county. Few cities the size of Rushville anywhere in the country ever had such a mammoth celebration. 1103 people were in line. 200 single and double rigs. Six brass bands. Five drum corps. One hundred old soldiers. Greatest number in line for years for any event. 143 on horseback. Sixteen big wagons and floats. Twenty-six decorated automobiles. It required forty-one minutes for the parade to pass at a given point.

Nobody ever saw anything more beautiful than the automobile turnout. It was good to feast one's eyes upon.

A reception committee, composed of Homer Havens, George Havens, Nate Weeks, Fred A. Capp, Robert Tompkins, J. M. Stevens, Gates Sexton, Frank Mull, Col. E. H. Wolfe and Ab Denning met and entertained Hon. John L. Griffiths.

John Moore rode a horse in the parade and kept shouting along the way: "We're near the Lord's day, but we'll preach salvation next Tuesday."

James E. Watson, Jr., was one of the happy "kids" in the parade. He rode with a "bunch" on a wagon.

J. Hill Vance posed on a wagon alternately as "Liberty Enlightening the World" and "Smiling Hill." He was as happy as a big sunflower.

Will Jay, candidate for representative, received a warm reception all along the line of march.

A number of people had decorated their vehicles and could not get into the parade.

There wasn't much corn husked in Rush county today.

Connersville is going to send over a bunch tonight.

Many of the big politicians are having specialists treat their throats, but Verne Norris had to consult a "hand" specialist this evening from working overtime.

The old town never did look better than it did today.

The big Democrat rally yesterday was a flat failure. Aside from the hired bands and two drum corps there were, by actual count, forty-one men in the two parades given. All of which goes to show that the Democratic farmers are going to vote for Watson this year. Men will go out to public speakings, but when it comes to participating in a partisan demonstration, they will not do it unless they intend to vote that way. Contrast the Republican and Democratic rallies. Men, women and children were proud to be in line today. Yesterday they slunk away. The stamp of the brewers is on Democracy in Indiana this year and good Democrats are ashamed of their party.

One Democrat farmer in the parade was chided by some of his fellow Democrats who live in the city, for making so bold as to march with the Republicans. "But I have four good reasons for wanting to vote for Watson." "What are they?" demanded one of the Democrats. "A wife and three sons," he replied. And none of the fellows dared to take up the issue with him and they walked away with doleful countenances.

Were the Democrats ashamed to go and march yesterday? Now, honor bright, tell yourself the truth in an examination of conscience. The Democrats of Rush county are evidently not going to pray one way and vote another.

Tonight the big noise will be let loose.

Didn't it make you feel proud that you were a Republican today? And the mighty demonstration was "foot ease" to the conscience of the Democrat who has made up his mind to be with us this year.

Of the Knightstown Tamborine Girls, who were in the parade here today the Hancock Democrat says:

Knightstown is always there with something good, and its reputation a hay wagon completely filled with was sustained on Saturday last when fair blushing females appeared in the "pe-rade." Of course it took a lot of courage for Knightstown to send their delegation, but they finished with the rest and shared honors with Governor Hanly and a traction engine. In fact if the broiler chorus and the traction engine had not been with us life would not have been worth the struggle. However, they were good and when the "pe-rade" neared the down-town districts of the city the smiles of these young ladies were lavished on groups of young heart-smashers with campaign canes and tin horns. However this was not the best thing they did, for later in the afternoon they appeared on the platform in a song and dance sketch. Their song "We Will Love You When Your Money is all Gone, but Will Not be With You" made the hit of the day. Their dance was a sort of cross between a salome two-step and a wiggling polka, but seemed to go with the crowd—they stayed until it was over.

Such voices! We have not heard their equal since the Intrurban Opera company went to pieces in this city. They knew they were good, so what is the use of all this. Later in the evening they scattered themselves among the fellows here and hung on soda fountains and dog wagons until the driver of the wagon threatened to go off and leave them if they didn't come on. They had some special scenery, carried their own gum chewing section and doubled in giggles and brass.

The Knightstown and Carthage delegations arrived about 1 o'clock, 250 strong.

The Knightstown Glee club, known as the "Tambourine Girls," composed of twelve young ladies, came in with the Knightstown delegation and gave several musical numbers on the balcony of the Grand hotel.

Knightstown and Carthage contributed four drum corps to the noise making.

A member of the Knightstown delegation carried a large banner with the words upon it: "Knightstown Solid for Watson."

E. O. Dale, who knew John L. Griffiths when he was a boy in Indi-has lost Democracy many votes. The attacks were written by and at the behest of local saloon men who insisted on conducting a dirty campaign—anything to win—and it has disgusted self-respecting Democrats. Men were employed from out of the city to take charge of the plant and their experience made them totally unfit to run a newspaper. However, the saloon cohorts were satisfied for they had their axes ground and that is all they wanted.

The delegation from Henry county made their presence known by marching over the streets yelling themselves hoarse.

I tell you, whenever you arouse the women of this country, there is going to be something doing.

Those thirty-one Democrats who rode and marched in the "monster" parade yesterday with the hired bands and drum corps ought to come over now, do the right thing and let's make the Republican vote in Rush county unanimous.

Donald Sparks, whose foot was in-

The pity of it all is that Watson was not here to see it. Nobody would have appreciated the monster demonstration like him. But "we go to prepare a place for you," Watson.

Just twice as many people came to hear John L. Griffiths this afternoon as heard John W. Kern yesterday afternoon. And think of it—Kern is the biggest Indiana Democrat in the puddle, and candidate for vice-president.

Behonest, Mr. Democrat, you were ashamed to march yesterday, weren't you? You might give a revised version of Shylock's speech to some of your Democratic friends: "I will talk with you, listen to speeches with you, read the campaign literature with you, but I will not vote with you, neither will I march with you, for the brewery party is not mine."

Two or three saloon men in Rushville, backed by the big brewers of the State cannot rule in politics in Rush county. Not now or any other time in the future.

The Republicans rode today, and the Democrats—those with sand in the craw—stood by and watched them. However, it was more than some could stand and they took to the "tall and uncut."

Miss Clara Gregg made a decidedly good looking "Goddess of Liberty." Had the flowing robe, gold stars and hair down her back like the original.

The only cloud on the horizon was a balky burro who refused to be driven in the parade. It was symbolic of the contrary disposition of the Democratic party. Fool idea, anyway, to enter the Democratic emblem in a Republican parade. Had to finally take him out, anyway.

The country boys had a great time riding and racing their horses around the city after the parade. They thoroughly enjoyed the day and it will be life history with them.

It required over forty minutes for the parade to pass a given point. Had every feature of any other pageant ever given here save a caliope. And the autos made a noise like "one of those things."

Billie Beale lost control of the steed he was riding and it dashed through a doll baby rack tearing it to pieces.

Don't throw away your decorations and keep up your enthusiasm for the big ratification meeting to be given in Watson's honor next Thursday—all day and all night.

Democratic runners, posters, bills, telephone calls, personal pleas and newspaper publicity only brought thirty-one participants for the Democratic parade yesterday. The answer is the Democrats are not going to "vote that way" this year.

Every person who voted for Roosevelt four years ago is going to vote for Taft this year, and for the very same reasons. Then we will get some new converts this year, too.

Alva Eakins, a good, old Democrat who is with the Republicans this year, drove a four horse outfit in the parade. He subscribed for the Daily Republican, too, saying he wanted to do the thing right.

Miss Sallie Feree wore the pair of riding boots she won at the horse show. The little miss attracted a deal of attention.

A. E. Martin spoke following Griffiths this afternoon and held the crowd too, under the spell of his oratory.

The Democrats lost their "Queen Bee" yesterday when it came time to parade.

Nothing to it, but five or six hundred majority in Rush county. "The Republicans will elect their county ticket by the largest majority ever received in Rush county," said County Chairman Charles A. Frazee today.

Two big wagons decorated by the Posey township delegation did not arrive in time to get in the parade.

The Prohibitionists that do not vote for J. Oscar Hall for prosecutor are indirectly lending support to Cheney, a former saloon man and law violator.

"We are for Watson and so is Dad"—"Let the People Rule—Not the Brewers"—"The Tri Kappa's Can't Vote, but Can Influence"—"We Want Taft—Not Taffy" were some of the sentiments expressed on the banners in the parade.

The torchlight procession will be another big affair. It will form at the Republican headquarters at 7 o'clock.

Watson will be proud of us when he hears all of this. And we are proud of Watson.

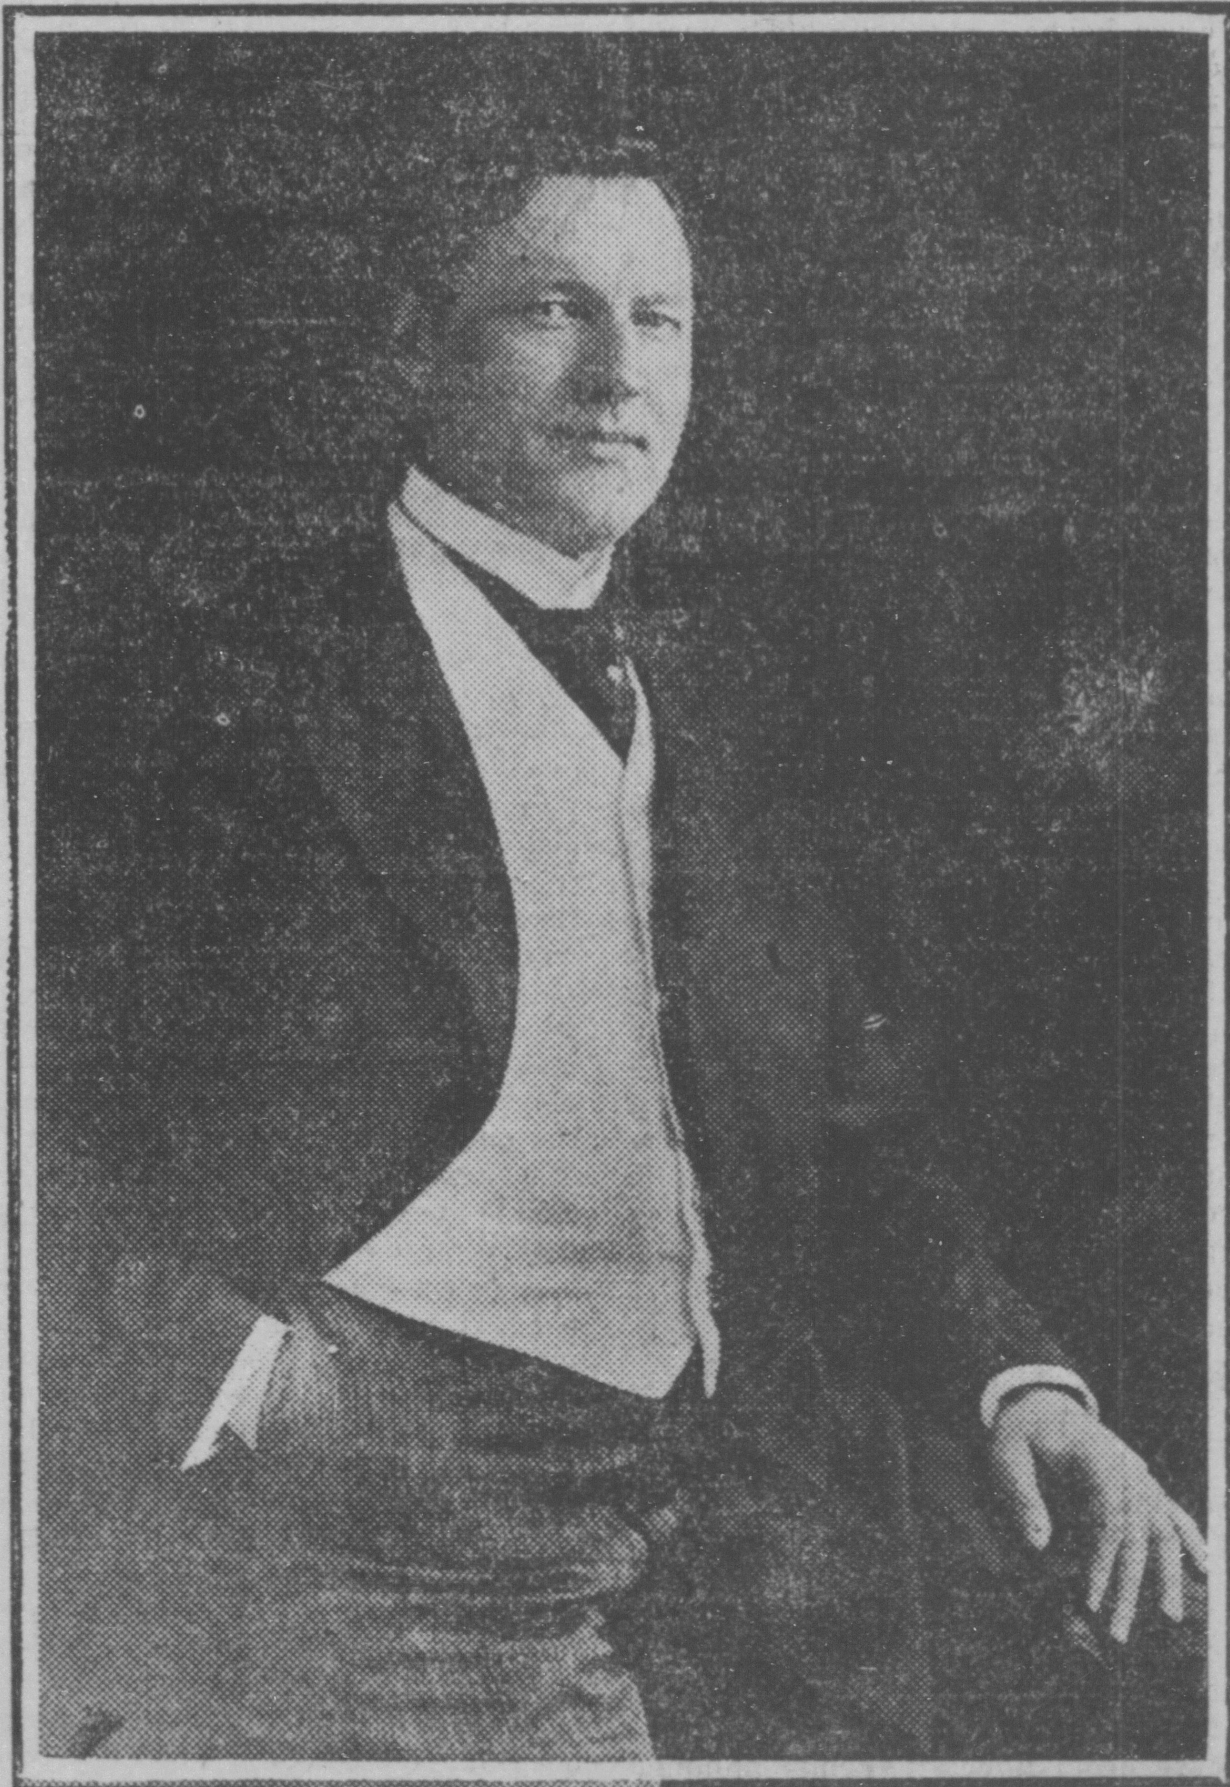

Home pride will prompt many fellows to think twice before they drop in a vote for Marshall against Jim Watson.

Among the many good things said by Griffiths this afternoon was: "I would be proud to be a citizen of this community, a fellowtownsman of our nominee for governor of Indiana, the honorable James E. Watson. He is a man whom I have long known and honored; a man who is the logical candidate for the high place for he has the breadth of mind, the depth of knowledge, sanity, the conception of the State which peculiarly fits him for the executive duties of the first man in the State."

CAMPAIGN LIARS

It is learned on reliable authority that the local Democratic saloon organ intends to publish an edition of slanders and lies on the eve of the campaign when it will be too late for the Republicans to enter a denial or make a correction. At the behest of saloon men it has been its policy to kick up a lot of dust declaring for clean elections and inferring that officials in the court house are robbers, to keep the people's mind off the temperance question, because they know that a majority of the people are with the Republicans on this issue. So far, it has not made a single direct accusation that was not repudiated, corrected and retracted by personal apology or through its columns. They have had an expert poring over the books in the court house for over six months. The books are always open there to everybody. Not a single disclosure has been made. They have played a losing game. So be on the lookout for any charges made on the eve of the battle. And tell your neighbors to do likewise. If they had known of any discrepancies, defalcations or maladministration they would have made them known long ago. Keep your powder of rebuke ready and dry for the final charge of the unprincipled enemy.

A Prophet That Is With Honor In His Own Country-- Jas. E. Watson

anapolis called on the distinguished diplomat and statesman at the Windsor hotel and the meeting was equally enjoyed by both.

There would have been more people here today if it had not been for the Lake Erie excursion to New Castle where Bryan spoke this afternoon. One man and a boy bought tickets to New Castle. That's a fact! If you don't believe it ask W. T. Simpson, the Lake Erie agent.

"Kitty" Lushell turned loose the bantam rooster he had in captivity yesterday and is using the cage for a handkerchief receptacle.

Many of the old line Democrats are putting all the blame of the Democrats deserting the ranks, on the local Democrat newspaper. The malicious and calumnious attacks made on local citizens—and especially upon the character of Watson—

jured recently in the press room of the Republican office, was able to participate in the Watson parade.

Wednesday we will hear Democrats saying: "The dinged brewers and saloon men is what beat us."

The other big day—when Bryan was here, years and years and years ago; you know, the first time he ran—farmers walked in or came in big wagons. If they did not come today in three cylinder motor cars, it was their own fault.

One Democrat today blamed County Chairman Newbold for it all; another blamed the newspaper controlled and edited by local saloon men. It will teach Democracy a valued lesson anyway, for we honestly believe it will have a tendency to purify politics.

PORTLAND, MAINE, CHILD
Ill, Weak and Emaciated, Restored to Health by Vinol
 "Our little daughter, six years of age, after a severe attack of the measles, which developed into pneumonia, was left pitifully thin, weak and emaciated. She had no appetite, and her stomach was so weak it could not retain food. She lay in this condition for weeks, and nothing the doctor prescribed did a bit of good, and we were beginning to think she would never recover."

"At this time we commenced to give her Vinol, and the effect was marvelous. The doctor was amazed at her progress, and when we told him we were giving her Vinol, he replied, 'it is a fine remedy, keep it up.' We did so, and she recovered her health and strength months before the doctor thought she could." J. W. Flagg, Portland, Me.

Vinol cures conditions like this because in a natural manner it increases the appetite, tones up the digestive organs, makes rich, red blood, and strengthens every organ in the body.

Vinol is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists.

Vote for Taft, progress, protection and prosperity.

One characteristic of the record of Judge Taft, both on the bench and in the cabinet, is that the more you drag it into the light the better you like it.

UNAMERICAN EFFORTS HURT BRYAN.

Men of Organized Labor Refuse to Be Driven to the Polls as Slaves.

Wage Earners Everywhere Recognize Taft as Their Friend and Sympathizer and Ask What Bryan Has Ever Done for Their Cause.

The effort of Samuel Gompers to pack, seal and deliver the union labor vote to Bryan, the publisher afraid to use the union label, has failed. The influence of Gompers' advice is typified in the following quotation from the Labor World, one of the leading journals of organized labor in the United States:

"By all means let every wage worker in the land use his own judgment in voting, and if he does so, and before voting secures a knowledge of the will-o-the-wisp career of W. J. Bryan and of his associations with such foes of organized labor as Governor Haskell he most certainly will not vote for Bryan."

Writing from Cairo, Ill., to the Labor World, R. L. Finney, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, says: "You can place old Illinois in the Taft column and add my name to the list of endorsements."

Practical Unionism Demands Taft.
 A few days ago James L. Feeney of Philadelphia, president of the Elevator Constructors' National Union, delivered a speech on Bryan and his party in which he made the following important statements:

"I am not here as a Republican, and I am not here as a Democrat, but as a practical union man it is my duty to uphold the party candidates whom I know and believe to be for the best interests of the cause I advocate. No man can accuse me of turning my back on organized labor. For twenty years I have been active in the movement, and I intend to continue so, and to-night, when I publicly announce my preference for the Republican ticket, I know they have in the past been labor's friend, and I believe will also be labor's best friend in the future."

"I was at one time an advocate of the Democratic party. The Democratic party has been tried by the American people, and it has been found wanting."

Taft's Labor Record.
 In the October Steam Shovel and Dredge, official journal of the union, T. J. Dolan, editor of the journal and secretary-treasurer of the organization, has written an editorial commending Mr. Taft's fairness to the members of that union. The editorial says:

"Mr. Taft had direct charge of the construction of the Panama Canal, and in all his official acts and personal relations with members and officers of our brotherhood on that work he always has shown himself fair and just."

"When contractors showed a disposition to disregard or violate the eight hour law Mr. Taft started prosecutions against these contractors through the United States Attorney General's office. When an effort was made this year to cut wages at Panama Mr. Taft used his influence to prevent it."

"We have the utmost confidence, in case of his election to the presidency, of the continuance of the fair and just policies toward organized labor that prevailed while he was Secretary of War."

Denies Gompers' Right to Dictate.
 H. K. Daugherty, a member of the Spanish Treaty Claims Commission, has made public in Washington a letter from James S. Clark, one of the vice presidents of the United Mine Workers, in which Mr. Clark comes out strongly for Mr. Taft and declares that Gompers has no right to dictate to labor.

Believing that the election of W. H. Taft means more to the wage worker of the United States than the election of William J. Bryan, Edward Hannan, a member of the Central Labor Council of Seattle and a union carpenter in good standing in Seattle Local 131, has declared for Taft and the Republican ticket, and will ask that his friends cast their votes for the Republican candidates.

Appeal for Funds Causes Bitterness.

The action of Gompers in sending a circular letter to the various unions throughout the country appealing for money with which "to help the friends and defeat the enemies of labor"—in other words, to support William Jennings Bryan and oppose William H. Taft for the presidency—is being condemned bitterly by labor men.

James R. Ryan, delegate to the C. F. U. from the Photo Engravers' Union No. 1, said that his union would not contribute a dollar to Gompers' fund. Alfred J. Boulton, leading member of the Stereotypers' Union, said that his union would not take any action on the circular. "I fought for Bryan in 1896," he said, "but I am against him this year."

Albert Abrahams of the Pressmen's Union, asked this question: "What's the use of the laboring men contributing a few thousand dollars to the Democratic party when that party will get hundreds of thousands of dollars, if not millions, from the Standard Oil Company?" Adolph Krieger of Local No. 476, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, is bitterly opposed to the action of Gompers. Elias Wolf, of the Cigar-makers' Union No. 90, said: "If other unions are fools enough to get money for Bryan my union won't."

Victor Buhr, member of the Amalgamated Painters, said: "The cheapest painters are being employed for contracts given out by the Democratic politicians of this city. The Democratic politicians fill the taxicabs, driven by strike breakers, with police while a little boy gets shot to death."

THOUSAND WORD A MINUTE TELEGRAPH IN OPERATION.

Mayor of Boston Inaugurates Teletype Service—One Cent a Word the Highest Rate For Any Distance.

"In sending you the first Teletype message between Boston and Portland I extend congratulations upon the successful inauguration of quicker and cheaper means of communication which automatic telegraphy has now brought about and which cannot fail to be a great boon to the people of our own and other municipalities."

With this message to the mayor of Portland, Me., Mayor George A. Hibbard of Boston announced the opening of the lines of the new telegraph company, the Teletype. This system, which sends and receives wire messages at 1,000 words a minute, makes possible so many economies that the new company is able to make a rate of 25 cents for twenty-five words between all points. On Teletypes delivered at destination through the mails the rate is 25 cents for fifty words, telecards 10 cents for ten words.

One of the best descriptions of the Delany automatic system controlled by the Teletype is given in the report of the Franklin Institute, just made public, awarding Patrick B. Delany the Elliott Cresson gold medal. In making this award the Franklin Institute authorities describe the Delany system as "the latest development in automatic telegraphy."

The system embraces both electromagnetic and electro-chemical methods of receiving messages and transmitting them by perforated tapes. Referring to the main features of the Delany system, the Franklin Institute report says:

Gould Killed Former Automatic Co.

The most notable use of the chemical system was by the Automatic Telegraph company, which built lines in 1871 from New York to Washington and Charleston, with offices at Philadelphia and other intermediate points. It continued in business for about three years with fair success, when Jay Gould obtained control of the stock and sold it to Vanderbilt and Western Union interests. Delany, Edison, Johnson and some other well known electrical engineers were prominent in that company. Mr. Delany being its general manager. He has never wavered in his belief that automatic telegraphy must eventually become universal.

The principal difficulty encountered by all high speed telegraphs and which gave the old automatic line the most trouble is "retardation," or the "static charge," or "capacity," of the circuit.

The most important of the Delany patents deals with the objectionable static charge. In this patent Mr. Delany describes a method of utilizing the "capacity" of the circuit in producing the record on the receiving tape.

The capacity of the line as a disturbing factor having been removed, it is a short step to increase the speed and distance over which chemical telegraphs may be operated.

Tested at 1,200 Words a Minute.

The committee saw the Delany apparatus in operation on two occasions and tested the speed of transmission of the chemical system at 1,200 words a minute. The record on the tape was perfect, much more uniform than could possibly have been made by hand transmission.

The commercial importance of Mr. Delany's completed system of high speed automatic telegraphy and particularly of his elimination of that bane of telegraphy, the static charge, or retardation, becomes more and more evident as its application to existing conditions is considered. High speed upon long or short lines is now assured. The carrying capacity of a line is made sixtyfold greater than hand worked lines. Expert service is reduced to a minimum. Errors in transmission are eliminated. Line maintenance is decreased in proportion to increased speed. As a result of these conditions the cost of service can be made so low that the volume of business should be very great.

WOMEN SCHOOLTEACHERS MAKE WAR ON HUGHES.

Working in New York to Defeat the Governor Because He Vetoes the Equal Pay Bill.

Women schoolteachers of New York city have leagued themselves with the race track gamblers, the machine politicians and the liquor men to defeat Governor Hughes. Formal announcement to this effect has been made by the president of the Interborough Association of Women Teachers, which is now carrying on an active campaign against Governor Hughes in Greater New York and throughout the state, as well as against all members of the legislature who voted against the so-called teachers' equal pay bill.

The women teachers admit that they are trying to defeat Hughes because he vetoed the equal pay bill. They are also working actively in behalf of the Democratic candidates Whalen and Palmer, who favored the bill that would have cost Greater New York $10,000,000 in additional salaries.

This peculiar political partnership of the women teachers with the more sinister elements opposed to Governor Hughes has caused a good deal of questioning as to the disinterested quality of "the elevating influence of the woman teacher," about which so much was heard in the equal pay campaign. All who are concerned as to Governor Hughes' re-election condemn in unmeasured terms the effort of the women teachers to defeat him on the sole ground that he disapproved a bill in which they were peculiarly interested.

TALES OF THE DERBY

Some of the Winners That Were Not Liked as Youngsters.

BOUGHT FOR A MERE TRIFLE.

Little Wonder, Who Carried Off the Blue Ribbon in 1840, Cost His Owner Only $325—The Successes of Voltigeur and Thormanby.

Stories of Derby winners having been sold as youngsters for exceedingly small sums are fairly numerous, and without going too far back into the recesses of the past at least two instances can be cited of animals destined ultimately to win the "blue ribbon of the turf" which as yearlings no one thought good enough to buy. Voltigeur was one of these, and the other was Thormanby.

Voltigeur was bred by Robert Stephenson in 1847 and as a yearling was sent up to be sold at the Doncaster sales, a reserve price of $1,750 being placed on him. Not a man was found to bid that much for him; consequently he was withdrawn.

In all probability he would have remained unsold had not Williamson, a relative by marriage of Lord Zetland, seen him and, having taken a fancy to him, finally persuaded his lordship to buy him.

His judgment was triumphantly vindicated, for not only did Voltigeur win the Derby and St. Leger, but he succeeded in establishing a line of thoroughbreds which is at present dominant on the English turf and likely to remain so for some time to come.

Thormanby, too, was sent up to be disposed at the Doncaster and, like Voltigeur, did not reach a nominal reserve. Desirous of getting rid of him, however, Plummer, his breeder, requested his famous trainer, Matt Dawson, to come and have a thorough look at him.

This Dawson did and, perceiving at a glance good points about him, which to one else apparently had noticed, bought him for Merry, his patron. Strange enough, Dawson gave the same figure for Thormanby as that paid for Voltigeur.

As a two-year-old Thormanby ran fourteen times and out of this number scored nine wins, and in the Derby of the following year he beat a field of thirty. It was said that the race netted Merry the nice sum of $200,000.

The cheapest horse that ever won the Derby was Little Wonder, which was successful in 1840, for he cost his owner, Robertson, the meager sum of only $325.

Spaniel, too, winner of the race in 1831, was picked up for a very small sum. Lord Eglinton, his breeder, letting him go for $750.

Pyrrhus J., which won in 1846, was purchased by John Day, the noted trainer, as a yearling at Doncaster. Gully, the pugilist, taking a half interest in him.

As a two-year-old the horse never ran, and seemingly his abilities were then of an unknown quantity, for at the end of the season Day agreed to sell his half share in him to Gully for $500. Day's chagrin at his subsequent victory in the Derby was very great.

Teddington, the winner of 1851, was bred by a blacksmith, who sold him as a foal, together with his dam, to Sir Joseph Hawley for $1,250 and a further $5,000 if he won the Derby.

Sir Joseph and his confederate, Massey Stanhope, to whom the horse really belonged, profited largely over the success, and the jockey, Marson, who rode the horse, received $10,000 as a token of victory, which in those days was unprecedented.

Sainfoin, which carried the colors of Sir James Miller to the front, was an exceptionally fortunate purchase by John Porter, the trainer. He bought the colt out of the Hampton Court lot of yearlings in 1888 for the very reasonable price of $2,720. Sir Robert Darnley taking a half interest in him.

As a two-year-old he was seen only once in public, and he won his race with the greatest ease. The year following he won the Esher stakes in a canter, after which he was sold to Sir James Miller for $30,000 and a contingency of half the stakes if he won the Derby. It was indeed a profitable deal for Porter and Sir Robert.

Another instance of Porter's shrewdness as a horse dealer was his purchase of the great horse Isonomy for the bagatelle figure, comparatively speaking, of $1,800. The real owner was Fred Gretton.

Isonomy gave no real promise of his worth as a two-year-old, his only victory being a nursery stake in the latter part of the season. As a three-year-old he was not seen in public until the Cambridgeshire, which he won easily by two lengths and incidentally earned no less than $200,000 in bets for his owner.

Had he been in the classic races he would in all probability have cleaned the board.

As a four-year-old he won the gold cup at Ascot and the Goodwood and Brighton cups and crowned these feats by literally running away with the Great Ebor handicap, carrying the crushing weight of 136 pounds.

The following year Isonomy proved himself a better horse than ever, not only winning the Ascot gold cup again, but also the Manchester cup with the almost impossible burden, one would think, of 138 pounds.

It has been calculated that altogether Isonomy won for his owner upward of $500,000 in stakes and bets, which for an $1,800 investment was a colossal profit.—Brooklyn Eagle.

If you will not take pains, pains will take you.—Whately.

W.B. Reduse CORSETS

The Perfect Corset for Large Women

It places over-developed women on the same basis as their slender sisters. It tapers off the bust, flattens the abdomen, and absolutely reduces the hips from 1 to 5 inches. Not a harness—not a cumbersome affair, no torturing straps, but the most scientific example of corsetry, boned in such a manner as to give the wearer absolute freedom of movement.

New W. B. Reduse No. 770 for large tall women. Made of white coutil. Hose supporters front and sides, also made in batiste. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

New W. B. Reduse No. 772 for large short women, in the same as No. 770, except that the bust is somewhat lower all around. Made of white coutil. Hose supporters front and sides. Also made in batiste, Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

Ask any dealer anywhere to show you the New W. B. "Hip-subsiding" models from $1.00 to $3.00 per pair.

There is no proposition simpler, plainer or more straightforward than that made by Senator Lodge. Judged by his record of words alone, Bryan ought not to be elected president.

The innovation given our fellow townsman, James E. Watson, everywhere he goes, shows what the people think of him. The people are going to elect him governor next Tuesday.

The fact that the brewers made a dastardly attempt to defame Watson, at the eleventh hour, in addition to the dirty campaign conducted the past few weeks by means of bogus traveling men, shows conclusively the desperation of the brewers who have taken on their own shoulders the conduct of the Democratic campaign. Let thoughtful citizens of all the parties ponder on what might be done by these men if given power over the affairs of Indiana. And if they will thus ponder, they will be very apt to cast their votes for James E. Watson, the man the corrupt gang so hate and fear.

Mr. Marshall's pastor at Columbia City has taken occasion to refute stories that Mr. Marshall is a drinking man, says the Huntington Herald. The neighbors of Mr. Marshall in Huntington county need no certificate of his moral character. It, so far as such vices stand, has not been called in question in Huntington. What the good people of Huntington county do object to is the stand he has taken in favor of those who make drunkards, and who are furnishing the money and enthusiasm for his campaign. The slander against Mr. Marshall is as unjustifiable as the slanders the Democratic organs have so often printed against Mr. Watson.

For years it has been the practice of Democrats to work the scarecrow business very hard just before the election. They put up posters and scatter dodgers between bedtime and daylight. They load the mails with stuff made to frighten the timid. This year they are aided by the brewers, who have a common cause with the Democrats. But the people have become so accustomed to the scare crow practices of Democrats just before election that they pay no attention whatever. The people understand that years ago the Democratic party contracted some peculiar habits which stay with it. These Democratic scare crows do not frighten the people. But the people do fear Bryan and Democratic policies. They remember the last reign of Democracy from 1893 to 1897. They want no more of it.

The nerve of the brewers would be magnificent if exercised in a good cause. Their latest exhibition of supreme gall is a letter addressed to the farmers. It is an appeal to the mercenary proclivities of the person receiving it. He is first cajoled as a good, moral temperate man; it then proceeds to show him how much money the brewers and distillers pay as internal revenue, which, if stopped, would throw the burden directly on to the farmers. Then they show how much corn and rye and barley they use, and picture the distress of the farmer if the market should be ruined, and so on in a lurid description of the horrible condition the country would reach without breweries, distilleries and saloons. Like the big red posters, this letter will do the brewers' cause more harm than good.

This is the time of the campaign when the people should be on the lookout for roorbacks—campaign stories without foundation in fact—that are sent out at the eleventh hour to confuse the voters and to injure candidates. It ought to be well understood that a story attacking a candidate or a party which is true and worthy should not be held back until too late for investigation and verification. The roorback is a favorite device for unprincipled politicians, and it appears, under the inspiring influence of the brewery alliance, even Rushville Democrats have been trying hard to resort to the dastardly roorback trick. They have personally tried to induce various Democratic papers in this State to publish a malicious and defamatory article, gotten up by local Democrats in order to have the excuse to copy some in the local organ and thus hide its authorship. But they have failed to find many Democratic editors unprincipled enough to lend himself to this scheme. In one instance a local politician (?) was unmercifully rebuked by a Democratic editor in the Sixth district for asking him to publish such stuff. Again we say, beware of roorbacks!

Ask Yourself.

Are you not better off than you were twelve years ago?

Haven't you witnessed twelve years of unprecedented prosperity?

Can anyone convince you that you would have fared better if Bryan had been elected in 1896?

Can anyone convince you that you would have fared better if Bryan had been elected in 1900?

Can anyone convince you that you would have fared better had Parker, for whom Bryan urged you to vote, elected in 1904.

How, then, can anyone convince you that you would fare better if Bryan should be elected in 1908?

YOU MUST ANSWER WITH YOUR VOTE.

THE POLITICAL MARRIAGE

Francis J. Curtis, congressman from Tacoma, Wash., who will be pleasantly remembered by many local people who heard him speak in Rushville in a previous campaign, has a brief article in one of the current magazines on "Political Marriage" which is exceedingly clever and characteristic of the man.

Following is the article:

The angular statesman of the Pacific Northwest regards a "political marriage" as almost equal in importance and solemnity to an ordinary domestic wedding. In addressing an audience of "Young Republicans" he spoke of a "political marriage," saying:

"The Republican party is peculiarly the party of the young men, because it is a party that, while cherishing a glorious past, always turns its face toward the future. The Republican party of today, like a young and hopeful maiden, offers her hand in political marriage to the noble and aspiring youth of this land. How fair she is to look upon! The unsullied flag of the Union, which she has never dishonored nor polluted, flutters round her fair face, and the glittering stars in its fabric hover like an enchanted diadem above her brow. She hath virtues in her person, truth in her past, youth in her eyes, and hope in her hand. Young man, she is looking toward you.

"But over yonder stands the old lady Democracy in ancient and unbecoming garb. A soiled and tattered flag that has been trampled beneath her feet is wrapped round her; but it ill becomes her form and face. Her political affections have been trifled with, and she has had numerous suits for breach of promise. She is the most unpromising remnant on the matrimonial political bargain counter of today. She is casting one ogling eye toward you, young man. But with the other she is looking backward after numerous political husbands, old flames, and divorcees.

"She divorced Cleveland when she married Bryan. She deserted Bryan when she eloped with Parker. And after a brief and tempestuous existence with Parker she left him, and now she is dividing her time between kissing Hearst in the dark and flirting with Bryan in daylight. She has been married, divorced, and deserted so many times that no man can tell today whether she is maid, wife, or widow (hay, grass, or sod,) or how long she will remain true to her vows."

MORAN GAVE BOND IN CIRCUIT COURT

For His Appearance to Answer to a

Charge of Assault and Battery.

INDICTED BY THE GRAND JURY

Joseph Moran of Rushville, says the Shelbyville News, gave bond on Friday afternoon in the Shelby circuit court in the sum of $1000 for his appearance in court to answer to a charge of assault and battery with intent to commit murder, his victim being James Cauley. The indictment was returned by the grand jury, a bench warrant being issued for the young man's arrest. The murderous assault on Cauley was made at the Hirschauer blacksmith shop two weeks ago.

ACCIDENT ON THE NEW SALEM PIKE

Horse Frightened at Automobile and Throws Occupants of Buggy Against Telephone Pole.

WERE ON WAY TO THE RALLY

Quite an accident occurred this morning on the Rushville, New Salem and Andersonville pike, one and a half mile east of New Salem. Mr. and Mrs. John Howard and son Alfonso, of Richland township were driving to Rushville to spend the day at the rally when their horse became frightened at a passing automobile. They were thrown out against a telephone pole and all three of the occupants sustained injuries. Mr. Howard was considerably bruised up, and the young man was hurt about the hips and knee.

Mrs. Howard, however, was injured the most. Her shoulder was dislocated and the ligaments torn loose so that it was difficult to get the parts to stay in place after bandaging. She is in a serious condition. They were taken to Allen Wall's home nearby where medical aid was given them by Dr. Logan, of New Salem.

The automobile at which the horse scared was probably from Rushville, as Dr. Todd was one of the occupants.

TOMORROW IS ALL SAINTS DAY HERE

Will be Marked by Due Solemnity in the Roman Catholic Church.

ALL SOUL'S DAY ON MONDAY

Sunday and Monday will be days of impressive and interesting services to local Catholics. Sunday is All Saints' Day and will be duly recognized at St. Mary's Catholic church. The recognition will not occasion any special exchange in the regular Sunday services, only that all the ceremonies will be marked by greater solemnity.

Monday is the day for the Feast of All Souls. Some churches are preparing to observe this feast on Sunday in connection with All Saints' Day services. It is essentially a service of commemoration to those who have departed this life. The exercises consist in solemn hymns, the calling out of the names of those who are gone and other similar observances, which are exceedingly impressive and beautiful.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

MEMORABLE STEPPING STONES

(Knightstown Banner.)

The other morning as I passed by the scene of our late fire, workmen were removing the stone steps leading up to Bell's hall. I then remembered some one had said, "There are sermons in stone." How many memories came trooping into my mind as I looked upon these old stones. I remembered that Fred Douglas, Benjamin Harrison, Myron Reed, Major Bane, Morton and Julian, Mary Livermore, Susan B. Anthony and others of National repute had pressed their feet upon these solid rocks as they ascended this way to discourse upon the political issues of the day and the great reforms and problems of that day and times.

SENATOR MOORE'S FIGHT.

(Liberty Herald.)

Senator E. E. Moore is in quite a fight for the joint-senatorship for Fayette, Hancock and Rush counties. His opponent is Mr. Lon Mull of Rush. From the tone of the Republican press of this district, Senator Moore is being loyally supported by his party. Every Republican candidate of the State legislature should be elected this year, and we believe Senator Moore will win, as he deserves to.

WOMAN VOTED TWICE.

(Greenfield Reporter.)

Mrs. Albert L. New of this city, perhaps bears a distinction that no other woman of this city does. She has voted twice for President of the United States. She will not attempt to vote next Tuesday in the election. She will gracefully submit to the laws of Indiana, which do not confer the right of franchise upon women.

Mrs. New voted in 1896 in the State of Wyoming. Wyoming was the first State in the Union to grant women the unrestricted right to vote in all elections as men do. Mrs. New Voted at the first election at which women voted. The next time she voted was in 1900 when she cast her vote in the State of Colorado. Four years ago she was living in California and was not permitted to vote under the laws of that State. It is the history of liberty that wherever a man has enjoyed a political privilege, that he never willingly surrenders it, but Mrs. New has voluntarily given up her right to vote without a complaint, and now allows her husband to do the voting for the family.

To those afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble, backache, rheumatism, Pineules for the Kidneys brings relief in the first dose. Hundreds of people today testify to their remarkable healing and tonic properties. 30 days' trial $1.00. They purify the blood. Sold by Lytle's drug store.

TAKE YOUR OLD JOB SAID MILLER

"Because I am For Jim Watson Anyway, and I Own a Good Farm."

It is reported that P. A. Miller of Rushville, was one of the Jung brewery agents who received one of their letters threatening him with the loss of his job if he did not vote for Marshall, says the Connersville News. Mr. Miller is well-to-do and that is the kind of man the English syndicate wants. It is said that about the time the brewery letter came one of the company's agents happened to be in Rushville. Mr. Miller is said to have told him that the company could take its job as he was going to vote for Watson and had a good farm that he could retire to whenever he saw fit. Mr. Miller is still "on the job."

FIGHT CAMBERN ON FREAK PLEA

Level Their Guns of Attack on Him Because He is a Banker.

RUSHVILLE MAN IN KANSAS

Leonidas Sexton Cambern, a former resident of Rushville who is the Republican candidate for Joint-Senator from Neosho and Wilson counties, Kansas, is in the midst of a warm campaign. The Stark News has the following to say of Cambern:

"The Democrats are putting up a unique fight on L. S. Cambern for State Senator. Not a word as to his personal character, which they say is above reproach; not a word about his absolute honesty and integrity; not a word against his good judgment; not a word about ability; not a single word about the man. He is a banker, that's all. But the way they say 'banker' makes it sound like a coined word, taken from the Greek rattle snake and the Latin horse thief. If the State of Kansas ever did need such a man as L. S. Cambern, it's certainly now. We need a business administration and need it bad. The only way to get it is to send business men to the legislature. Mr. Cambern has been an unusually successful business man and as such is entitled to the vote of all the people."

AUDIENCE WAS DELIGHTED

With the Musical and Literary Recital of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Pugh.

Jesse Pugh, of Rushville, assisted by his wife and Mrs. Whitely and Miss Whitney, gave an excellent program at the benefit entertainment Tuesday night at the Friends' church, says the Carthage citizen. Mr. Pugh possesses a splendid voice highly cultivated and sang in a happy manner. He also gave two readings—one from Kipling and the other from "The Merchant of Venice." Mrs. Pugh played organ accompaniments and she and Mr. Pugh sang a duet which was most pleasing.

ASK FOR WASHBURN-CROSBY'S GOLD MEDAL FLOUR THE VERY HIGHEST QUALITY

Lady Betty Across the Water

By C. N. & A. M. WILLIAMSON * COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY McCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO.

I had forgotten the horror of the bathing dress in my surprise at meeting Mohunleigh, but it fell over me again like a cloud as soon as I was shut up in the bathing box with those wisps of green silk. I wouldn't have the maid help me and wrestled with the ordeal alone. It took me some time, but when everything was on (there were only four things, counting the cap and smart little sandals) I couldn't say to myself that the effect wasn't attractive. It was, and I did approve of myself in the quaint head-dress, which was more like a fetching silk toque with an Alsatian bow in front than a mere cap.

But the awful moment came when I was ready, with my hand on the door I'm sure Joan of Arc must have felt like that when she had let her hair down and put on that graceful white dress of hers one sees in the pictures, to be burned. She may have been dimly aware, that she was looking quite her best, as I was, but even that couldn't have buoyed her up much at the moment, and it didn't.

As I stood hesitating, somebody knocked. I peeped out, and it was Sally—quiet, unassuming little Sally, with her middle aged air—looking like one of Stan's gaily girl photographs, in a short, low necked dress of bright poppy color, with silk legs as shiny as an archdeacon's, only with quite a different effect.

"Come on, my green Undine," said she, and I came, because she pulled me so suddenly that otherwise I should have fallen flat on my nose.

Having seen her dressed so much in my style, it wasn't quite as bad as before, and when I was out of my box—like one of those little barometer women that tell fair weather—there was Mrs. Pitchley in crimson and Carolyn Pitchley in white, and lots of pretty women, all with the same lovely stockings. There hadn't been any standing about when we arrived, because we were early, not having gone to the Casino first as the others had, and it was a relief to find them, or it was, until I had a great shock.

Instead of the men being away at a separate beach of their own, they were put with us, and kept popping out of boxes every minute, and running up to talk to the girls they knew, just as calmly as if they were in evening dress. My eyes almost came out of my head for an instant. Then I just swallowed hard and leaped over about five centuries of prejudice as if I were jumping across a tiny beck.

"Everything's a matter of custom," said I to myself, and in another minute I was racing gayly down to the water, hand in hand with Sally, as if we had been little girls with sand pails and shovels.

I expected to feel as if I had plunged into a million gallon bath of iced water, when I got out among the creamy breakers, but, judging from the sensation, Americans have had their part of the Atlantic beautifully warmed from underneath with some patent heating apparatus. It would be just like them!

The sandy beach is so level you can patter out ever so far until you finally have to bob up and down for the rolling waves as if they were royalties.

I can swim a little, and Potter took me beyond the breakers. It was great fun under that arch of turquoise sky, with the sun dancing on the clear green water as if the millionaires of Newport had been sprinkling gold pieces. But the best of all was the floating platform about a hundred yards from the beach, where we sat and let the emeralds and pearls spray over us.

At home when you are at the sea your governess or some other person who thinks enjoyment on-ly to be to measured off by the sea on the shore looking at her watch, and when you have been in exactly twenty minutes she tells you to come out directly or you will catch a chill. I've always wondered what it would do to you if you stopped in for twenty-one minutes, though I never had the chance to try, but in America all that is quite different, as different as the very way they say "seaside," with their accent on the first instead of the last syllable.

Nobody thinks about watches. You just bathe and bathe as long as you feel like it. When you are tired of it you come out. Then you bask yourself in the sand for a little while if you like and run back to begin over again. It is heavenly. No other adjective half expresses it.

When we did really make up our minds to stop out for good and had dressed ourselves, feeling like goddesses just born of the foam (or gods as the case might be), we all met—our party, the Pitchleys and my cousin—to arrange about what Mohunleigh would do.

It seemed that Mrs. Pitchley had invited him to lunch, and as she had been so kind about the bathroom he explained to Potter he thought that he couldn't very well refuse. About stopping on he would decide later, but he consented to drive with us in the afternoon in a motor car of Potter's that holds six. By that time he would have had time to send a wire to a friend of his in New York and to make up his mind what he had better do about going back.

When we got home we found Mrs. Ess Kay much better and up. She was inclined at first to be cross with Sally and Potter for taking me to the beach, but when she heard about Mohunleigh, she forgot to be vexed, and seemed almost excited about him I can't think why.

She asked lots of questions, very quickly, one after the other, brightening up when Potter told her he had invited Mohunleigh to come to the Moorings, but looking quite strained and wild at the news about his lunching with the Pitchleys.

"You oughtn't to have let him go Potter," she said.

Potter shrugged his shoulders—those square American shoulders of his "Strange as it may seem to you, he wanted to. That settled it. I didn't monkey with the gunpowder."

Mrs. Ess Kay's lips went down at the corners and her eyes flashed.

"How easy it is to see that woman's game," said she. "Cora Pitchley knows that Mrs. Van der Windt and the committee will be only too anxious for us to go to the pink ball now, and she thinks she sees a way of getting there, too, after all. Mark my words she's got her ear! It'll go hard with her if she doesn't stick to him. Betty, can't you do something? He's your cousin. You've a right to him."

"I don't know that I want him particularly," I confessed. "Mohunleigh's a dear, queer old thing, and I'm fond of him, but we haven't seen much of him at home for years. And I know he can't be bothered with me."

"Anyhow, he certainly ought to be here," said Mrs. Ess Kay anxiously. "It will be perfectly loathsome if we have to sit still and see the Pitchleys gobble him up."

"Poor Mohunleigh!" I exclaimed. "Why, what will they do with him?" And for a lurid instant I beheld Miss Pitchley and Carolyn as beautiful aggressors, with their lips red—too red.

"They'll go to the pink ball with him and by him. They couldn't without him. That's what they'll do," said Mrs. Ess Kay, as if she saw my cousin's whitening bones picked clean by the Pitchley family. "And we shall have to be intimate with them the whole time he stays."

"Oh, you needn't feel bound to for my sake. It isn't as though Mohunleigh"—I began, but Mrs. Ess Kay snapped my poor sentence in two, as if it had been cotton on a reel.

"I have to think for all of us," said she. "Cora Pitchley is a climber."

We changed our dresses (Sally says one must be forever changing one's dress at Newport), lunched, and then at the door appeared a gorgeous white motor car lined with scarlet, which I had never seen before. As we all had on white, from head to foot, we matched it beautifully, and, feeling that we looked nice enough even to grace an accident, if it must come, we started to pick up Carolyn Pitchley and my cousin.

As I stood hesitating, somebody knocked.

Mrs. Ess Kay didn't go, for she wasn't quite herself yet, and, besides, she perhaps thought that in the circumstances Mohunleigh ought to be brought to call before she met him informally. I don't know that any of us were as sorry as we ought to have been not to have her.

The Pitchley house, which is called the Chateau de Plaisance, is on a much grander scale than the Moorings. It thinks it is an old French chateau and tries to convey the same impression to beholders, as do several others of more or less the same sort. But it's a hopeless effort. The poor dears might as well give up and resign themselves once for all to being a blot on the exquisite blue and gold landscape, though perhaps if they can hold out for two or three hundred years they may do better. The farther we went, along a glorious road called the Cliff drive, and the more charming colonial houses and delightful "cottages" I saw, the more I felt that the regular palaces were mistakes, with Newport for a setting and the sea for a background. I am glad that I didn't live at the time when all the real castles of the world were young and awkward. Perhaps they looked just as crude as these at first, though it's hard to imagine it.

When we went back the first thing that Mrs. Ess Kay asked was, "Well, what about Lord Mohunleigh?"

"He's made up his mind to stop and send for his things," said I.

"You gave him my note? He's coming to us?"

"I gave him the note, and he's coming around presently to thank you for being so kind. But—he feels he had better stay with the Pitchleys. You see, it's like this. They happen to be sending a servant to New York today to do some commissions for Mrs. Pitchley, so the man will go to Mohunleigh's hotel too. And as they're doing so much for him and Mrs. Pitchley and her husband know some friends of his at home, he thinks—but he'll tell you all about it himself."

"I told you so!" said Mrs. Ess Kay.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the indelicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of known composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

The Books Are Opened!

Read! Meditate! Figure!

A local paper has asked that the county books be opened. It has intimated that the disclosures might be startling. Such has been the case.

The county tax levy is less than 50 cents on the $100 and is levied equally throughout the county. The township trustee, together with his advisory board, levies the tax in his township, and he and they are responsible for the levy.

The table below shows the levy in each of the townships, seven of which are under Republican rule and five under Democratic rule. From the Democratic wail we would expect the lowest rate in the Democratic townships.

What does the record show?

The average rate of taxes in the five Democratic townships levied last September is 21 11/14 cents higher than the average in the seven Republican townships.

For the 1907 the average in the Democratic townships was 24 3/7 cents higher than in the Republican townships.

For 1906 the Democratic townships asked 36 39/70 cents on the hundred dollars MORE than the Republican townships, and for 1905 they were 23 1/5 cents higher.

Does this prove Democratic economy and Republican extravagance?

You who live in Democratic townships can, by a little calculation, find exactly what Democracy in your township has cost you Notice the following table carefully and ask your Democratic neighbor to explain. Hold him to the records.

Bryan and the Soldier.
 Inasmuch as Mr. Bryan is appealing for the support of what is called "the soldier vote" it is pertinent to recall the fact that he has never shown anything but contempt and dislike for the military service. It is true that he became an officer of volunteers in the Spanish war and actually got as far as Florida on his way to the front, but after his return to the more congenial field of politics in Nebraska and while still wearing his country's uniform he indulged in sneering criticism of the government which he had sworn to support and insisted that it had gone beyond proper limits in adjusting the results of the conflict.

Later, while the government was engaged in suppressing an armed revolt against its authority in the Philippines, Mr. Bryan declared that the American troops so employed had no business in the islands, that they were oppressors of the weak and that they were guilty of gross crimes and needless cruelty in dealing with the insurgents. The effect of Mr. Bryan's unpatriotic talk was to give aid and comfort to the enemy. It encouraged the Filipinos to continue their resistance to American authority and made them believe that if they would only hold out a little while longer the United States government would recognize them as independent. The natural result of Mr. Bryan's conduct was that the task of putting down the insurrection was far more difficult than it would have been otherwise. Hostilities were needlessly prolonged, and many hundreds of lives were needlessly sacrificed and would not have been sacrificed at all had not Mr. Bryan basely encouraged the Filipinos to continue fighting in a cause which he knew to be hopeless. Among those who fell in that desperate struggle was General Henry W. Lawton one of the gentlest and most gallant of American soldiers, who was slain while leading his troops into action in the island of Luzon. Shortly before his untimely death General Lawton, in a letter written to a friend in the United States, said:

"If I am shot by a Filipino bullet it might as well come from one of my own men, because I know from observation, confirmed by captured prisoners, that the continuance of fighting is chiefly due to reports that are sent out from America."

Those words stand as an indictment against the little band of Filipino sympathizers here in the United States, of whom William Jennings Bryan was the foremost and noisiest. That in spite of them he should ask the support of our veteran soldiers in the present campaign is little short of insulting alike to the living and the dead.

Frank Landers Convicted.
 Sullivan, Ind., Oct. 31.—After being out more than twenty-two hours, the jury in the case of Frank Landers, charged with the murder of Charles Stewart on Dec. 2, 1906, returned a verdict of manslaughter. The case was shortened considerably, taking only three days, and attorneys had expected it to take more than a week. It was the second trial of the case, a jury at the first trial last June "hanging" after being out ninety-seven hours.

Farmer's Lucky Find.
 Greenfield, Ind., Oct. 31.—Freman Smith, a farmer of this county, found a pearl along Blue river a few days ago while fishing. His foot struck a mussel shell which appeared unusually heavy. He opened it and found a brilliant pearl as large as a walnut. An expert says it is worth from $1,000 to $1,500 in the rough.

 by a Simple Remedy.

The sufferer can be convinced by sending for a free trial package of Zemo to E. W. ROSE MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, Mo.

Zemo is a clean liquid for external use. It is of vegetable origin, pleasant and agreeable to use. The first application will stop the itching and burning, and if used according to the direction, will draw all the germs and their poisons to the surface and destroy them, leaving a nice, clear, healthy skin.

Zemo has made some remarkable cures of chronic cases of skin disease that had been pronounced incurable by the leading skin specialists of this country. Among these cures is Mr. Jacob Frank, proprietor Frank Mercantile Co., 821 N. 6th Street, St. Louis, Mo.; R. W. Emerson, President Anchor Steam Laundry, St. Louis, Mo.; W. P. Taylor, 108 Shinkle street, Findlay, Ohio; Mrs. Harvey Burks, Harrisburg, Ill. These persons were cured by Zemo after they had given up all hope of ever being cured. They will gladly answer all inquiries.

Zemo is for sale everywhere. Mr. F. E. Wolcott, the druggist, has secured the agency for Zemo in Rushville. He indorses and recommends Zemo and will be glad to show you photos and letters and other proof from prominent persons who have been cured by this remarkable remedy.

REGARDED WITH AMUSEMENT
 President Looks Upon John D.'s Statement as a Trick.

TO TRY TO DAMAGE MR. TAFT
 Announcement of Standard Oil Magazine Giving Notice of Rockefeller's Allegiance to Republican Nominee Is Denounced at the White House as a Palpable and Obvious Trick on the Part of Standard Oil, but Which Is So Open That It Can Deceive No One.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The following official statement has been issued from the White House: "At the White House the announcement of Mr. Rockefeller through the press agent of the Standard Oil company was regarded with some amusement, in view of what the administration has done to the Standard Oil company, and of the bitter hatred borne by the Standard Oil company to the administration. It is a perfectly palpable and obvious trick on the part of the Standard Oil people to try to damage Taft—a trick so palpable that it can deceive no one."

Mack's View of It.
 New York, Oct. 31.—Democratic National Chairman Mack, after reading the statement issued at the White House, where it was said some amusement was caused by the announcement of Mr. Rockefeller, in view of what the administration had done to the Standard Oil company, said: "The White House statement is its own answer. The bargain was made between Taft's managers and Rockefeller and concerns the possible future administration of Mr. Taft, and not what the present administration has or has not done to the Standard Oil company."

Replying to another printed article in which it was charged that Mr. Rockefeller had been persuaded to endorse Taft at the instance of the Democratic national committee, Mr. Mack said: "The statement is ridiculous and absurd on the face of it and has already been sufficiently answered by me." Earlier Mr. Mack had declared: "The Standard Oil has finally landed where everybody knew it would. The Taft managers have evidently made the bargain. Mr. Rockefeller held back for a bargain and has got what he wanted."

THE FORMAL STATEMENT
 What Mr. Rockefeller Has to Say of the Issues.

New York, Oct. 31.—John D. Rockefeller has announced that he will vote for William H. Taft for president.

In a statement issued from 26 Broadway, the famous headquarters of the Standard Oil company, he said that he felt the more impelled to answer the question as to which party he would uphold next Tuesday, "because it cannot be said that the present administration has in any way whatever favored the special interest to which my life has been devoted."

"It seems to me at this time," the statement continues, "that when the question is put directly to an American citizen which candidate he will support by his vote for the presidency, he should be manly enough to answer it just as directly. I therefore say that I expect to cast my vote for William H. Taft."

"If for no other reason, I support Mr. Taft because on comparing him personally with Mr. Bryan, his chief opponent, I find the balance of fitness and temperament entirely on his side. The election of Mr. Taft will, I believe, make for law and order and stability of business. He is not a man, I judge, to adventure with rash experiments to impede a return to prosperity by advocating measures subversive of industrial progress."

"The question of candidates seems to me peculiarly a personal one in this campaign, as the leading orators on both sides have not succeeded in drawing party lines, as based on platforms, with any great clearness. I do, however, support the general Republican position on the tariff and the currency. I have always been a Republican."

Jail for Lawyer Flictner.
 New York, Oct. 31.—William H. Flictner, a lawyer, with offices in Wall street, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary for grand larceny. Flictner is sixty-six years old and has been prominent as a churchman. He was convicted for diverting to risky speculation $8,000 entrusted to him by two women for safe investment.

Jury Acquits Whitmore.
 Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 31.—After being out two hours, the jury in the case of Theodore Whitmore, on trial for the murder of his wife, whose battered body was found on Dec. 26 of last year in a swamp near Harrison, N. J., returned a verdict of not guilty. Whitmore's defense was an alibi.

The Want Advertisements
Are "Humanizing"

When more people come to use and answer Want and For Sale Advertisements, more people will know each other—

MORE PEOPLE WITH MUTUAL INTEREST WILL MEET—

more people will find channels and opportunities for reciprocal service. Truly, the Daily Republican Want Ads are "humanizing" people—shaming away the scorn of small things, the scorn of "bargaining," of exchanging useful but not used things for useful and usable ones.

A Word to the Voters of Rush County.

I believe there are a few voters of the county who are not familiar with the fact that the County Treasurer is required by law to make a second campaign if he desires to serve the people the full term of four years — the length of time most all of the other county officers are elected to serve.

In other words, this officer must be elected every TWO years, instead of four years, as is the case with most all of the other offices.

I do not believe that this is a "Square Deal" to the Treasurer, but as it is the law, it must be obeyed.

I mention this fact simply to relieve the mind of any voter who has been led to believe (for a purpose, of course), that I am making the race for a second term of four years, when the rule in this county is "one term and out." Please bear this in mind and do not let any one deceive you in this way.

Another thing I ask you to think of, is the fact that the campaign comes at the very busiest tax-paying season, and this handicaps the Treasurer to such an extent that it is impossible for him to make a canvass of the county in his own behalf, and is compelled to rely largely on the loyalty of his friends for his second election, instead of his own personal efforts.

Knowing then that I can not have the opportunity of seeing each voter personally, I am just going to leave the whole matter in your hands, feeling that you fully understand the situation and will do the very right thing on the third day of November.

In conclusion I want to thank the voters of Rush County for the splendid support given me two years ago, and say frankly that I have tried to do my work well and want to serve you for the balance of the term, and to that end ask for your support.

With my very best wishes,

GEORGE H. CALDWELL.

HICKORY NUTS ARE SCARCE

Drought Responsible For Failure of Crops This Fall.

The hickory nut crop in Rush county is a failure. As a usual thing Rush county holds her own in this product, but the long dry spell did its work. Early in the season the trees were covered with nuts and the biggest crop in years was expected. The first frost knocked the nuts from the trees and to all outward appearances they were as good as ever, but when cracked, the kernel was dried up. Walnuts and hazel nuts fared little better.

DAY BEGAN WITH AN EXCITING RUNAWAY

Horse Hitched to Milk Magon Belonging to Amos Blackledge Causes Excitement.

NOT MUCH DAMAGE DONE

There was much commotion in Main street this morning when a horse, hitched to a milk-wagon, belonging to Amos Blackledge came down the Main street hill at a terrific gait. The horse became frightened at the anvil shooting in North Main street, close to Seventh and not being hitched started to run. Spectators along the street attempted to stop the frightened animal, but with no avail. When the wagon crossed the traction line at Third street, it bounced high in the air and milk and milk bottles were seen everywhere for a short time. Over a crate of milk was wasted and spilled upon the streets. The horse was finally stopped between First and Second streets on Main.

Mr. Blackledge had a similar experience with another horse yesterday, but there was no damage done.

NEW TIME CARD ON THE TRACTION LINE

Principal Changes Were Made in the Time of the Connersville Dispatch.

GOES INTO EFFECT SUNDAY

The winter schedule will be put in effect on the I. & C. line Sunday. The only real important changes will be the running of the Connersville Dispatch. CHENEY SOLD BEER TO A GIRL

Democratic Candidate for Prosecutor Was Indicted in Greenfield Many Times.

HIS COURT RECORD IS GIVEN

500 Prohibitionists Have no Candidate and Are Endorsing J. Oscar Hall.

It is now a foregone conclusion on the part of those "in the know" in Rush and Shelby county that J. Oscar Hall, the Republican nominee for prosecutor will be elected. Mr. Hall has a majority of about 300 Democratic votes to overcome but it is safe to say that many and more Democrats will cast their votes for him, rather than for a former saloon keeper and law violator. If there is one office a fearless man should fill, and one office that he should come clean and free from all saloon and brewery alliances, it is the office of the prosecuting attorney. Let it be known that he is a saloon cohort and a liberal man and lawlessness reigns supreme.

The Democrats realize their mistake and acknowledge the defeat of Cheney. They have even quit championing his excuse. His nomination was saloon and brewery agency dictation.

"Let him get beat" said one staunch old Democrat today "it will be what the fool Democrats of Rush and Shelby county deserve for nominating such a man when they knew temperance sentiment is in the air and here to stay."

The Prohibitionists of Rush and Shelby county are going to support J. Oscar Hall. They have no candidate on the ticket and they realize that to abstain from voting for neither would be lending support to the former saloon man, who has the normal majority. The Phobis are strong in the two counties. Mrs. Lenord of Arlington, Prohibition county chairman in Rush, has endorsed Mr. Hall and in a large measure will assist in his election.

Of Cheney's record the Shelby Republican says:

"During parts of the year 1894 and 1895, Mr. Cheney conducted a saloon in Greenfield, Indiana. Mr. Cheney explains this by saying that he was "forced" into business. Indictment record No. 8 on page 106 of the Hancock Circuit Court, Hancock county, Indiana, shows that John C. Cheney was indicted on the charge of selling one quart of beer to Ella Scott, a minor, another indictment on page 109, another on page 111, another on page 112, another on page 113, others on each page between the numbers 114 to 120, inclusive. On page 149 of the same record will be found another indictment against John C. Cheney for giving away one pint of beer to one Noble Stanford, a minor—another indictment on page 151 on the charge of giving to one Bert Duncan, a minor, one pint of beer. On page 150 of the same record another indictment against John C. Cheney for permitting one Bert Duncan, a minor, to play pool in his pool room. And there is yet another indictment on page 153 for permitting one Noble Stanford, a minor, to play pool in his pool room.

Mr. Voter consider these facts. Eighteen indictments in a single record and on the charge of selling to minors, and one of them a girl. Think of that damning record, Mr. Voter—think about it seriously. What will be your estimate of a man indicted for selling liquor to a poor unfortunate girl repeatedly, and then coming to you pleading for your ballot and explains this record by saying he was forced into it?

Was he forced to sell liquor to minors?

Was he forced to sell liquor to minors?

Was he forced to give liquor to minors?

The grand jury of Hancock county for the February term, 1895, indicted him on these charges.

These are the facts. We want you—we want every voter to know them—and consider them."
